Repair the Parapet

A visit to the Ford Piquette Avenue Plant is a step back in time. The iconic parapet of this U.S. National Historic Landmark needs rebuilding after a devastating storm in early September. This original architectural feature atop the museum's facade was toppled by 80-mph winds.

You can celebrate automotive heritage in the Motor City by helping restore one of the world's oldest surviving automobile factories to its former glory. This work will require artisanal masonry and structural engineering expertise to ensure the rebuilt parapet will stand another 100 years. With your support, we can continue to share this piece of history with Detroit and the world.

Your charitable gift is tax-deductible. To learn more about this spring/summer preservation project, please visit www.fordpiquetteplant.org/donate.
